

CK-CARE Summer School on Eczema/Dermatitis

10–12 September 2014 in Davos

Dear National Allergy Society Presidents,

We kindly invite you and your fellows to the first “CK-CARE Summer School on Eczema Dermatitis” in cooperation with „International Society on Atopic Dermatitis“ (ISAD). This school will address young allergists, dermatologists, pediatricians, clinical immunologists and physicians from other specialties with a strong interest in allergy and skin immunology.

Please refer to the detailed program and online information for registration and abstract submission:

<http://www.ck-care.ch/index.php?id=5717>

We encourage participants to submit abstracts of their work. A travel grant of 500 Swiss Francs will be awarded to 10 best posters.

In this school, the delegates will learn essential basics and up-to-date knowledge from our renowned faculty and moderators. This high-quality continuing medical education provides practical information that can be implemented immediately into daily work. By stimulating scientific exchange as well as building of social contacts between the young participating physicians and our world-class faculty, we hope to encourage new forms of collaborations all over the World.

CK-CARE, Christine Kühne – Center for Allergy Research and Education, is a non-profit project within the Kühne Foundation and free of industrial sponsoring. It is our goal to deliver knowledge updates to the fingertips of physicians of different specialties as well as other relevant health care providers who treat or have an interest in patients suffering from allergic diseases.

We are addressing you here as a National Allergy Society President. Please do not hesitate to forward this message to the members of your National Society.

We look forward to seeing you in Davos.
